

CONTENTS

About projects supported by Foundation:

- Veoliaforce involved in Haiti after Hurricane Matthew
- Follow Tara's researchers under the surface of the Oceans
- Water for Guinea

Last projects supported:

HUMANITARIAN & DEVELOPMENT AID

- Association Boronu-France-Bénin : A school and a water supply for Bembéréké
- Ateliers sans frontières: Veolia computers recycled so that they can be reused
- Sahel Energy, Water and Environment (EDS): Developing water networks in Guinea and training technicians
- Inde Espoir: Toilets for pupils at an Indian school
- Initiatives de Développement Stratégique (Pagabags): Women weaving fashion accessories from recycled plastic

Humanitarian & Development

Veolia Foundation supplies drinking water to a refugee camp in Mosul, Iraq

The Veolia Foundation is helping the French Red Cross and the Qatari and Iraqi Red Crescent organizations to supply potable water to the Khazer 2 camp, 30 km east of Mosul in Iraq. The refugee camp houses 2,500 families, which is around 20,000 people. Mickael Pannard, a Veoliaforce volunteer and project manager for this mission, has just returned after three weeks in the field. He talks about his experience.

- Les matins du soleil: Optimized farming production thanks to a better use of water in Northern Niger
- Lumières d'Afrique: Providing stable access to electricity in remote areas of Cameroon
- SOLem (Solidarité Etudiants en Médecine): Improving access to healthcare and the quality of health services in Togo
- Unicef West and Central Africa Regional Office: Studying cholera epidemics in Guinea in order to more effectively control the disease

SOCIAL INCLUSION THROUGH WORK & SOCIAL LINKS

- Accord'heures: When exchanging services turns into solidarity...
- APCDS (Lulu dans ma rue): A neighbourhood service that fosters social links and creates employment
- Association Varoise pour l'Environnement et la Gestion de l'Aménagement (Vega): From maintaining green spaces to looking for a job – Vega's back-to-work approach
- Créaquartier: Developing skills for the jobs of tomorrow in a priority neighbourhood
- Travail et vie: A laundry press for employees in a job-integration scheme
- Tremplin Insertion Chantiers: Job integration to serve Ardèche

ENVIRONMENTAL & BIODIVERSITY

- Association des amis recycleurs: Understanding the circular economy for a more responsible economic development

Social & Employment

Urban market gardens on the rooftops of Aubervilliers

The first harvested lettuces to be grown on a rooftop in Aubervilliers by Association Espaces are now ready to be enjoyed by consumers. Supported by the Veolia Foundation, Espaces is an occupational insertion group that specialises in urban ecology and manages an ecological market garden on the roof of a shopping mall located near Veolia's head office.

Fostering the social integration of the youngest through playing music

Democratising access to music is a priority to the new Philharmonie de Paris. Through its DEMOS scheme, the public institution is creating orchestras featuring young people who live in underprivileged neighbourhoods

Environment & Biodiversity

- Comité français de l'UICN :
Red List: after animals and plants, it's now time for ecosystems
- Fondation Prince Albert II de Monaco (FPA2): Promoting the cause of the oceans
- FPA2: Promoting initiatives to reduce plastic pollution in the Mediterranean
- La Grande Muraille Verte: The Great Green Wall: sustainable reforestation under the close scrutiny of the scientific community
- Les Casques Verts: Ecological engineering to fight flooding
- RISE (Rural International Student Exchange): Domestic sand filters to eradicate arsenic
- Smart Cycle: Smart Cycle, the web and mobile socially-responsible crowd recycling app
- Unis-Cité: Help low-income families to save money by training them to adopt eco-friendly habits

Veolia Foundation attending COP22

The 22nd Conference of the Parties began on November 7th in Marrakech. By November 18th, it will have hosted 25,000 participants. This is what is at stake: to materialise the decisions that were made a year ago through the Paris Agreement. Together with its partners, the AIMF and the ADEME, the Veolia Foundation will be attending so as to proceed with the official launch of the "Women and Sustainable Energy" project.

The 2016 Veolia Foundation Environment Book Prize awarded to "Empreinte du vivant. L'ADN de l'environnement"

The 2016 Veolia Foundation Environment Book Prize was awarded to Dominique Joly, Denis Faure and Sylvie Salamitou for their book "Empreinte du vivant. L'ADN de l'environnement". The prize was presented yesterday by the president of the jury and former minister, Roselyne Bachelot Narquin, during the book fair in Brive in the Southwest of France.

Copyright © 2017 Fondation Veolia, All rights reserved.

Unsubscribe from this list