

The latest news from the Veolia Foundation

No.26 – March 2019

IN BRIEF

At its selection committee meeting on November 28, 2018, the Veolia Foundation supported 17 projects, six of which related to humanitarian and development issues, five to social et employment, and six to the protection of the environment and biodiversity. Three projects were also approved by the Foundation's Board of Directors on December 17.

>> Find all the projects supported by the Foundation on our website.

News about the projects supported by the Veolia Foundation:

– The Mooc on ODDs, which won the MOOC of the Year award, is going international

The 2019 edition of the Student Solidarity Award is launched!

For the eleventh consecutive year, the Veolia Foundation and the Veolia Group's Human Resources Department will award a Student Solidarity Prize. The call for projects is open before pre-selection and pitch before the jury.

The foundation supports the Rohingyas with Solidarités International In Myanmar, where they are persecuted, the Rohingyas mostly live in camps on the outskirts of cities. With its partner Solidarités International, the Veolia Foundation intervened by sending two Veoliaforce experts to Sittwe with the objective of improving WWTP operation.

- The Niamey Oasis celebrates its first anniversary

*
**

Veolia Foundation -
Who are we?

The Veolia Foundation is moving its humanitarian emergency equipment

Knowing how to respond to humanitarian emergencies means anticipating logistical issues. To strengthen its responsiveness in the event of a crisis, the Veolia Foundation has just installed its equipment stock alongside Croix-Rouge Insertion Logistique in Pantin. This was an opportunity for Veoliaforce volunteers mobilized during the move to demonstrate their commitment.

Follow the Veolia Foundation on social networks and discover the new twitter feed of the Veolia Foundation.

*Photo Rohingyas © Dalila Mahdawi/MSF
Copyright © 2019 Fondation Veolia, All rights reserved.*